8,000 Pound Tractor Tag Reduced From $210 To $88 Says Vehicle Commissioner

Smaller Trucks Make Up Loss From Favored Long Haul Tags

Palm Beach County's legislators are in hot water, with fellow members of the House over the general "misinformation," "misunderstanding," "lack of information," and "failure to understand provisions" of the much discussed "P Tag Bill."

His fellow introducers have walked out on him and numerous other legislators are sore at the lack of information on the reduction in long-haul tags, and the flagrant use of the "P" tag for over-the-road trucks, particularly in Mr. Elliott's district.

Commissioner of Vehicles Fisher says that the loss of revenue on account of the reduction from $175 to $110 for (Continued on Page 4)

Corn Prices Upping With Celery Slow; Beans Are Active

The rains during the past week haven't done the beans nor the corn any good; they delayed picking and harvesting and resulted in damaged goods being offered on the market.

However, within the past few days corn prices have strengthened and give promise of a better figure from now on out, according to reports.

Good beans offered just previous to the rain brought fair prices and some real damage was done to a number of farmers who had beans ready for picking during the rainy spell.

The movement felt considerable during the week.

Two Bean City Men Seriously Burned

Joe Wall of South Bay and Raymond Hall of Bean City were painfully injured in an accident on the Evans & Rogers Farm Tuesday afternoon as they were overhauling a motor in a dragline. They were working in an open field adjacent to the Boles Canal at Okechita and had the motor on the ground.

At the time of the accident they were welding their fuel tank which blew up in their faces. Other workmen who were busy overhauling, repainting and reconditioning the dragline summoned the ambulance by way of radio and the injured men were rushed to the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Wall suffered a fractured hip and severe burns. Mr. Hall had a broken arm and facial burns. They were still in shock late in the afternoon and no coherent statement of the accident could be obtained from them.

X-Rays were taken to determine the extent of their injuries but it was not immediately known whether they had suffered any internal injuries or not. Dr. R. L. Pipes being out of town. They were given emergency treatment by Dr. Herman Baxt.

Seacrest Defeats Golden Rams 4-0

Seacrest pitcher Jerry Kerns turned in a very smooth performance as he threw and batted his team to a 4-0 victory over the Belle Glade Rams. Kern was very effective on the mound as he whiffed 12 batters, walked one and gave up only a single to Ram, third baseman, Walt Masley.

Little Irvin McTaggart pitched good ball for Belle Glade in fanning 3 Seahawks, but his effort by walking seven. He gave up only four hits, but the clutch-hitting Seahawks knew just what to do with their few opportunities. Kern hit a triple in the 4th inning. It was the biggest base blow of the ball game and sent the first Seacrest rally across. The four hits garnered by the Seahawks, a triple, double and two singles — were distributed among four players.

Saturday, May 1 is the date scheduled for the Annual Policemen's Ball to be held at the Municipal Club Club. Last week an error was made stating May 11 as the date.

Engineers Initiate A Method Of Cooperative Study With Interested Areas

That spirit of "undivided effort" so urgently advocated by Spessard Holland to Floridians in matters pertaining to the Overall Flood Control Program marked the closing of a four-day conference in which representatives of the Caloosahatchee Valley, Lake Okechobee farming and cattle in terests and the Stuart-St. Lucie group, the U.S. Engineers and the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Board Wednesday at Clewiston, participated.

Col. Stuart, District Engineer of Jacksonville, asked the three groups to select four persons each as a permanent advisory committee to meet with the technicians to discuss problems affecting the design, construction and administration of the Overall Program.

Colonel Schull briefly recited the history of flood control efforts around the Lake Okechobee and was followed by heads of two of his planning divisions, Mr. L. A. Farrer and Mr. E. W. VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE
By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer

The question is sometimes asked, why is it necessary for some agency—Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs or other Veterans' Organization—outside the Federal Government to do service work for veterans—cannot the VA perform this service to veterans?

It should be understood that the VA cannot do what the VA operators make it exceedingly difficult for that organization to properly develop or prosecute a case against itself.

For example, a VA representative actively promoting the granting of applications for benefits by personally representing persons before VA rating boards, creates the untenable situation of an employee of the VA promoting an interest which may be contrary to that of the VA and in direct conflict with the VA's primary responsibilities.

We all agree that it would not be considered good judgment to engage the services of the attorney of a billion-dollar corporation—one cannot in all fairness to both parties be expected to sit in judgment on any claim and at the same time prosecute with very much vigor such a claim against itself.

There is estimated to be more than 375,000 veterans in Florida at the present time—conservative estimates would indicate that each one of these veterans has average of one and one-half dependents who are or may be at some time eligible for benefits, Federal or State. This number will increase as our own men and women are returning from the Korean conflict. So, it can readily be seen that a large percentage of the population of our State, which is now over 3,000,000, are now eligible for benefits under veterans legislation.

W. B. RHODES REVEALS
ALUMNI RESOLUTION

A University of Florida Alumni Association resolution expressing "confidence" in the athletic scheduling policies of Head Football Coach Bob Woodruff was revealed recently by William B. Rhodes, president of the Belle Glade, U. of Fla.

Alumni Club.

The resolution, approved by the local club and the Executive Council of the State Association, endorsed the policies of Coach Woodruff in scheduling football games with Southeastern Conference teams and others on a parity with conference teams, and continuance of the rivalry between Florida and the University of Miami, as long as the rivalry is mutually agreeable and can be continued in a spirit of good sportsmanship. The complete resolution reads: "WHEREAS, The University of Florida Alumni Association is keenly aware of the continuing responsibility of the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics in stimulating students interested in athletics to achieve leadership through proper participation in competitive sports; and "WHEREAS, The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics of the University of Florida has, in the opinion of the Association, given the student body, alumni and general public, the best all-around sports program in its history;

"WHEREAS, The University of Florida as the sole representative of the State of Florida in the Southeastern Conference has placed upon it the responsibility of increasing its conference standing by schedules designed to best insure maximum team success; and

"WHEREAS, The continued traditional rivalry already long established with the University of Miami is desirable and should be continued.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the University of Florida Alumni Association go on record as approving the policy of the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as follows:

1. Scheduling athletic contests designed to interest, first, the student body and their parents, and secondly, the alumni, friends of the University and the general public.

2. Scheduling intercollegiate contests in all sports with first and continuing priority on Southeastern Conference games; the remainder of the schedule being designed to best insure the objective of team success within the conference, continuing to the extent possible, intercollegiate and other contests with member teams of conferences having schedules and team standing on parity with the Southeastern.

3. Continuing the established and traditional rivalry in intercollegiate athletics with the University of Miami because of the demonstrated interest between student bodies, alumni, and the general public, so long as this rivalry is mutually agreeable and can be continued in a spirit of good sportsmanship."

SINCLAIR KIRCHMAN CO.
1954 ROAD MAPS READY
FOR DISTRIBUTION

Motorists taking to the open road this year will find better highways and shorter routes than ever before, if the changes necessary to up-to-date last year's Sinclair road maps for the 1954 series to reflect highway and other touring improvements made in the past year, Mr. Fisher, said.

The changes include new roads that have been laid - including superhighways and toll roads, new route number designations, re-alignment of old roads, changes in road widths and surfaces, improved bridges and tunnels, and numerous other changes reflecting the tremendous volume of work done in the last twelve months by the highway departments of the country. In addition, many new town names appear for the first time on the new maps, while other towns have changed their names.

Information for Sinclair maps, which are prepared by the Rand McNally organization, includes all items of four and highway interest as reported through the first month of the current year by highway departments, Chambers of Commerce, trade associations and scores of other government and business sources. A second 1954 edition of the Sinclair maps, to be issued about the middle of the year, will reflect still further improvements made in roads and routes during the spring months.

RAIN, WET PAVEMENT CAUSE OF 4 ACCIDENTS

Trooper Joe P. Bertram reports three highway accidents Sunday with injuries to eight persons, the results of trying to mix rain, wet pavements and excessive speed on the highways. They just don't mix.

The first accident occurred at 10:30 am, on U. S. Highway No. 27 some 7 miles south of South Bay, involving two cars.

Mrs. Jean Sparks, age 44, traveling north enroute to her home in Ontario, Canada lost control of her car on the wet pavement, crossed over the center line and met in a semi-head on collision a car traveling south driven by Herman Dyess, age 53 of Canal Point, who was enroute to Miami to visit his daughter.

Mrs. Sparks suffered a fractured leg, multiple bruises and abrasions. Her father, Alonzo Robertson, age 69 had a dislocated shoulder, lacerations of the elbow and eye-lid. Her mother, Mrs. Pearl Robertson, age 65, suffered multiple bruises and abrasions. All three were hospitalized at the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital.

Dyess was given emergency treatment for cuts on his face and elbow and released to his home.

The two cars were damaged to the extent of $1000 each. The other two accidents were on SR No. 80 near Belle Glade during a late afternoon shower.

At 4:47 a half mile east of Belle Glade a Chevrolet coach driven by Barney Tannor Mills, age 31 of Osceola Camp, traveling west, skidded sideways down the highway a distance of 210 feet, rolled over and came to rest in a shallow roadside canal. He suffered a dislocated arm and $300 damage to the car. His passenger, Leon Dalton, age 39, had a bruised arm and multiple bruises over his body.

The third accident at 6 o'clock occurred three quarters of a mile south of Belle Glade when a Mack Bowie Billiter, of Osceola Camp, age 33, passed another car, cut in ahead and skidded into a pine tree. He suffered deep lacerations of the head and abrasions of the shins and $800 damage to his car.

His passenger, Clarence Meloy, age 17, had abrasions of the knees. The men were given emergency treatment at the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital near which the accident occurred and released to their homes.

Outdoor Florida

All through the hunting season, and then for several months afterwards, I kept asking Charlie Riecken, who is one of Florida's greatest marksmen and gun experts, for a guest column. Charlie always had some excuse for not producing the manuscript. But, finally, at long last, as the saying goes . . . the excellent and most interesting piece of writing has arrived, — so I present it to our readers with the suggestion that here is a little article on guns which will be not be excelled. Charlie is very well 'signed in' with the Don Cook gun shops of West Palm Beach and Winter Park.

The Soliloquy Of A Gun Nut
By Charlie Riecken

Sitting before a warm fire watching the sparks go up the chimney, calls back the many night spent in the open woods, and brings back memories of many camp fires. I recall nearly 40 years of firearm memories. We have made many technical advances in these years, but I often wonder are they all blessings or do the Red Gods laugh at us. More powerful rifles and shotguns, faster fire of both, and less and less skill every day. Sportsmen Used "Doubles"

Thirty years ago we had the auto shot gun, but very few used them, mostly the real sportsmen used doubles. A bag limit of 25 ducks a day was very generous, many filled it but lots did not. What could you do with 25 ducks? No deep water, no open water, no ducks to practice on and never kill yourself those old boys shot soon.

Today every one wants to kill duck and birds at 50-100 yards and can't do a good job at 30 yards. Why? Simply because the modern hunter does not practice and lets a salesman tell him this gun will kill at 80 yds. Do you know what 60 yds. is? Try it sometime. More game has been killed with the shot gun at 35 than over that. Why? Because it is actually the most efficient range of a shot gun.

Another fallacy is using big shot.
Likes Smaller Shot
Ducks and quail can be more easily taken with 8's and 7's at 40 yards than with larger sizes. Density of pattern is the answer. One large shot at the right spot will kill, but several smaller shot will have a better chance to hit that spot time after time, and at 40 yards 7's will kill ducks regularly. Pace off 40 long steps and try it, using a magazine for a target.

Make your first shot count, never mind the rest. They just don't count. Shoot a gun and load you can stand shooting without flinching. I instruct plenty of shot gunners yearly and always stress getting a gun you are not afraid of. What is the use of hunting with the recoil of which you unknicks your bugle and loosens your bridgework.

Keep Eyes Open
After the first shot you duck before the roars and if you close your eyes, and don't kid me, you do, what in thunder can you expect to hit? No small ever dropped dead from a near miss.

We do not have proximity shells you in our game guns. Lots of Old Timers say use the heaviest you can, but the Old Timer shot 50 shots to your one and was accustomed to it. Kind of like and old pug, he could take it, he was probably punchy, anyway. Look who's talking, Yes, I am an Old Timer. I shot possibly 10,000 shots per year of all kinds of ammunition and could be I am punch drunk.

To summarize, I would say shot gun of which you are afraid. Use it at a range you can hit with it. Make your first shot as certain as taxes, forget you are after meat for you can buy a quarter of a year's supply of good steak, for about the price of your gun.

Remember you are out for a good time as a sportsman — not an apprentice butcher.

Too Late To Classify
By Russell Key

A smokehouse may be fine in the country but it can sure mess you up if you happen to fall heir to one in the city. Believe me, I got one and it's a lulu. . . I suppose a loyal Florida Farmer would never think of wearing a top coat or having a heater in the house, but then that Mom and I are grandpunks we would coddle our rheumatism by providing ourselves with a nice warm house. We let the man talk us into one of these fancy pants floor furnaces. The kind that the book says works automatically with a thermostat, self-starting and everything. All you have to do is keep oil in the tank and set it for whatever temperature you want and it does the rest. They installed the contraption under the hallway floor where the man said it would give the best results because the heat could go upstairs and downstairs and all over yonder, like Gossie Garden.

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer

Reserve Obligations After Discharge. This is further information regarding Reserve obligations following release from active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States.

In the U. S. Armed Forces there are the following Reserve components: (1) The National Guard; (2) The Naval Reserve; (3) The Marine Corps Reserve; (4) The Air Force Reserve; and (5) The Army Reserve.

The former Organized Reserve Corps of the Army, consisting of the Officer's Reserve Corps and the Enlisted Reserve Corps, are merged by the 1953 Armed Forces Reserve Act into a single Army Reserve.

Units of the National Guard and Air National Guard—when not on active Federal duty—are under the control of the State or Territory in which they are located. The Armed Forces Reserve Act keeps the traditional safeguards to protect the State control. Thus, the Government of the United States and the Government of the State or Territory.

Membership in the National Guard and the Air National Guard is voluntary. A man with a Reserve obligation may fulfill it by entering the National Guard or Air National Guard.

All Reservists in the different Services are now in three categories: (1) The Ready Reserve; (2) The Standby Reserve; (3) The Retired Reserve. The Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard Reserve each has Reservists in all three of these categories. Persons in the Ready Reserve and the Standby Reserve may be ordered to active duty either as individuals or as members of units. However, members of units, organized to serve as such, can only be called to active duty with their unit. By comparison, in the Retired Reserve there are no units, only individuals.

Finally the job was done and they put the heater in operation. In no time flat a flood of ice, warm air began pouring up from the grill in the front.

If you stood on the grill your coat would sizzle and the hallway and staircase were as hot as a fox in a pepper patch. Finally the furnace and the man had failed to arrive at an understanding, for instead of circulating the heat all over the house like it said it would, most of it went 'galloping upstairs' leaving the dining room and living room as cold as a polar bear's nose.

We fixed that by installing some accordion doors at the foot of the stairs which permitted us to keep the heat downstairs when the doors were closed, and to direct it to the second floor when we wanted it there. Things went along fine for a time. When a cold spell came along the little old furnace would begin to grumble and growl whenever it was advised by the thermostat that the temperature had dropped below 76 degrees.

We hunked in the synthetic warm weather and figured that our troubles were over. Neighbors would drop in on cold days and remark, "how cozy we were and say, 'I guess we will have to get us one of those things.'"

Then the weather really got nasty, the old north wind began to howl bringing with it icy blasts that brought out the goose pimples and made your teeth chatter. Weren't we glad that we had been smart and had installed a floor furnace?

During the evening we set around in comfort and gave Mother Nature and her icy blasts the grand raspberry. We were as snug as a bug in a rug. The beds weren't clammy when we retired and the bathroom was as warm as a lover's embrace.

Then sometime between midnight and time, to get up the cold furnace went on strike. Cold air began seeping under doors and window sills and we woke up blue with cold. I tried to encourage it. Relit the pilot light and gave it more fuel.

Then it backfired, pouring smoke and soot out in billows. In less time than it takes to tell it everything in the house was covered with a fine layer of sticky soot and I look like the end man in a minstrel show.

Now we get a smokehouse and no foolin' and the only consolation Mama has is that she'll be of couple of months ahead of the neighbors with her spring housecleaning. Anybody want to buy a nice second hand floor furnace?

Today is what we were all looking forward to yesterday.

Spring and summer schedules over the Florida East Coast Rail way were inaugurated Sunday, April 25th. Summer service over the line will provide three trains daily from and to New York and the East, while the Chicago and Mid West area will be served by the "City of Miami," "South Wind" and "Dixie Flagger," plus a daily through train and coach via the "Royal Palm" from Detroit and Cincinnati.

On summer basis, equipment of both the "Champion" and "Miamian", between New York and East Coast points, will include reserved-seat Coach and Pullman accommodations, and a full-length tavern-lounge car. The "Miamian" continues to leave Jacksonville southbound at 4:30 A. M., but on a faster schedule arrives Miami 11:30 instead of 11:45 A. M. The "Champion" leaves Jacksonville 8:30 A. M., instead of 8:15 A. M., arrives West Palm Beach 1:51 A. M., Miami 3:39

P. M. Northbound, the "Champion" will be scheduled out of Miami earlier, at 9:15 instead of 9:45 A. M., leaves West Palm Beach 10:58 A. M., and arrives Jacksonville 4:25 P. M. The "Miamian" on summer schedule will leave Miami 1:00 P. M., West Palm Beach 2:41 P. M., arrive Jacksonville 8:30 P. M. The southbound schedules of the "City of Miami," "South Wind" and "Dixie Flagger" remain approximately the same as at present. Northbound the "Dixie Flagger" and "South Wind" are scheduled out of Miami at 12:50 P. M., leave West Palm Beach 2:23 P. M., arrive Jacksonville 7:50 P. M., and reach Chicago at 6:30 and 6:55 P. M.

Through "Royal Palm" cars from Detroit and Cincinnati will be operated southbound on the Florida East Coast Railway's "Champion", and northbound on the "Miamian", the latter arriving Jacksonville 8:30 P. M. in time to make all evening connections.

EQUIPMENT INSTALLED

Lake Shore Elementary School playgrounds are fully equipped according to Tom Carle, City Manager, who announced that the Heckscher Foundation for children, New York City had sent playground equipment which has been installed under the supervision of Mrs. C. W. McDonald park supervisor.

Assisting in the installation and the assembly was Clarence Throop of the water department and C. T. Pennington of the street department, who supervised the foundations and the erection. The playground equipment included slides, see-saw, ladder unit, bicycle racks, basketball stops, swings for all ages, merry-go-round, two castle towers, double chute slide, parallel bars and six park benches.

The city has permission to use the school grounds under the supervision of the school while it is in session and expects to have supervised hours from 8 to 5 p.m.

The Municipal Park, which is considered one of the best equipped parks for its size in Florida also received a large ocean wave slide and a bicycle rack.

Formal presentation of the equipment to the city has been set for May 6, by Mrs. Arthur Smadbeck, president of the Foundation of Lake Wales. Mayor Harold Rabin will accept in behalf of the city. A plaque will also be given to be erected at the same time.

Smaller communities in Florida are interested in stabilizing their economy by bringing new industry and new investments into their area. That is the trend shown by answers to questionnaires sent out by Florida Speaks magazine for use in their special Agro-Industrial supplement which was part of their April issue.

ASK YOUR ATTORNEY ABOUT HIS QUALIFICATIONS AND INTEGRITY

Top Hit of the '54 season

Take a look at America's new heart throb, the new Ford Skyliner! It's the "hardtop" that gives you that wonderful outdoor feeling. And its new tinted transparent roof section is another Ford "first" in the low-price automobile field.

There's pace-setting style in the clean, honest lines of its Crestmark Body. And the color-harmonized interior matches exterior beauty in a most charming manner. What's more, there's restful comfort beneath the smart upholstery... in the foam rubber seat cushions and deep pillow seat backs.

And as in all 1954 Fords, you choose from the most modern engines in the industry; the new 115-h.p. I-block Six or the new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8... another reason why you can pay more but you can't buy better than Ford.

EXTENSION TELEPHONES

MAKE IDEAL GIFTS

Here's a different gift for that birthday, anniversary or any special occasion: an extension telephone! Someone will appreciate your thoughtfulness.

A conveniently-located extension telephone saves a lot of steps and time and brings privacy, too. The cost is only pennies a day. It is especially nice to give a busy teen-aged son or daughter the privacy of an extension telephone in his or her room. And you can have their names put in the directory, too.

Order a gift-wrapped extension telephone by simply calling the Telephone Business Office.
